Do you like to play horror exciting games? However, are you sure you are brave enough for the hottest horror exciting game: FNAF game? Five nights at Freddy's is a horror designed by Scott Cawthon. The storyline of the game is about a pizza restaurant called Freddy Fazbear's Pizza, and players play the role of night security guard at the restaurant. The story begins when the games can move and they want to kill you. Your task is to protect yourself from moving games by watching them on camera and lock the door to prevent them from approaching you. FNAF game scenario the Fnaf game, you have to survive after 5 nights. The night shift starts at 12pm and ends at 6am and you have to defend yourself in the following 5 moving games: Freddy Fazbear, Bonnie the Bunny, Chica the Chicken, Foxy the Pirate Fox and Golden Freddy. Just sit in your security room and watch them through the camera. There are a total of 11 cameras in the restaurant, the video can be blurry or distorted, which can cause a lot of difficulties in finding games or what they do. Use the mouse to click on the specific CAM that you want so you can see what is happening in each room. The cameras are always ready to be used in Fnaf. To return to the security room, move the mouse to the rectangle bar with the arrow in the corner of the screen. In some rooms, you can only hear the sound, and the cameras can not record all the places throughout the restaurant. In particular, in the corridor on the right and left side of the players, these blind spots are the cameras. In the Fnaf game, players can not get out of the security room, but you can close all the doors and windows to protect themselves. At the same time, players need to light up the hallway to see what moving games are doing and where they are. With door switches and light switches balanced on both sides, players just have to move the mouse there, click on the switches to turn them on or off. However, saving energy is a very important thing, you have such a big problem when you use it for power. If you use up the electricity, the cameras won't work, the door will open and the light is off. You don't want to imagine what's going to happen in the dark in this state. When the power is worn out, March Toreador will play, the screen will be black, and the players will be killed by Freddy and of course, the game is over. After that, you're going to have to start over. Therefore, the performance indicator is very important not to forget to pay attention. This is shown in the lower-left corner of the screen. The power on the left is the number that shows the remaining energy percentage, counting down from 100%, the power decreases when you turn on the lights or close the door. Use shows power consumption when the door lights up or closes. The blue line is low, the yellow line is average, and the red line indicates that the performance is too much. You have to pay the cameras, especially cam 1A and CAM 5, because they record the rooms where the games are. When you realize there's something out of the ordinary, don't panic and close the door immediately, because it could turn out to be a waste of power. Then if your power loses too much, the energy won't be enough to use it until 6:00 a.m. The CAM 1A and CAM 5 rooms are a bit far from the security room, so you'll have to wait until the games move to the CAM 4B room, which is closest to you. That's when you should close the door. By the end of the game, players need to be brave, stable and a good estimate. Notes for you when you play Fnaf game Cameras: cameras let you know what they do with games, but you can watch only one camera at a time. Lights: The lights help illuminate the restaurant, especially the blind spots, the 2 corridors on the left and right. Jumpscare: You have to make sure that you will not be Jumpscared by any moving games, otherwise you have to kill and of course, the game is over and you have to come back to the beginning. Mini Games: The second time you have played, you will be able to access a lot of mini games. Phone call: Players receive a message from the phone of the boss of the restaurant or another security guard, the message will tell players how to play the game. Close the door.
